THE HISTORY OF OUR BRAND

...a Tradition of Quality since 1917

In 1917, emerging from the German general representative body of the Swiss Union Horlogère, and under the leadership of Wilhelm Ulrich and the brothers Emil and Richard Rothmann, experienced watchmakers and watch retailers came together to form the Deutsche Uhrmacher-Genossenschaft Alpina (DUGENA).

The goal: The sale of high-quality watches at a moderate price. The models "Tresor" and "Festa" paved the way for the cooperative to develop and flourish.

Following the Second World War, the company was the first brand in the new Federal Republic of Germany to use uniform advertising and shop window designs for its retailers. DUGENA developed into a synonym for reliable and modern quality watches with a particularly good price-performance ratio. With a clear philosophy and extensive market presence with over 2,000 watch stores, DUGENA advanced to become the most successful German watch brand in the 1960s and 1970s.

As a consequence of the economic crisis in the 1970s, DUGENA initially became a subsidiary of Christ Uhren und Schmuck GmbH, then later becoming the core of EGANA Deutschland GmbH, which continued to operate DUGENA as an independent brand.

Following the dissolving of EGANA in 2009, the operation of DUGENA was then continued by a group of private entrepreneurial families, who continue to direct the fortunes of DUGENA together with a motivated team of watchmakers.

As a watch brand with a long history and tradition, Dugena stills sees itself obligated today to adhere with the same values as 100 years previously:

Quality and convincing design at a good price.

DUGENA MECHANIK

- time flies -

A DUGENA Mechanical stays...

Our passion is the production of precise mechanical watches and the associated craftsmanship. The old tradition of watchmakers has more to offer than digitization and network services. It calls attention to the fine mechanics of a caliber. Today the complex interaction of the components exerts a pull we reflected with this collection. It fulfills the longing for traditional values and consistency without denying the spirit of the time. With the contemporary interpretation of classic design and the attractive variety of models, DUGENA PREMIUM Mechanical applies to the lovers of traditional watchmaking.

Mechanical movements, also known as calibers, have always got watch lovers' hearts ticking faster. It is their precision in conjunction with their aesthetics that fascinate, and it is certainly for this reason that they are considered milestones in precision mechanics.

In our watches, we only use high-quality blanks from renowned international manufacturers. These are taken apart in Meisenheim and given different finishes. They are then re-enclosed once again and regulated in accordance with our strict specifications.

Each dial is carefully freed of dust particles with a special plasticine.

MODERN CLASSIC

„Form follows function.“

This famous phrase of the American architect Louis Sullivan was also a defining expression of Bauhaus style in a new interpretation. In particular, product design and functionality were the main focus.

Our new model Manhattan interprets the Bauhaus theme in a fresh new design. Without leaving the clear line Manhattan skilfully sets small colored accents in the dial. The red quilted calf leather strap, discreetly perforated, gives the watch a sporty, elegant look.

MODERN CLASSIC | Series FLATLINER

SPORT LINE

Watches for adventurers, divers and all sportive people. Best quality at best price guarantees a lot of space to explore.

With the dawn of the age of powered flight, special wrist watches were created for pilots. In the open cockpit they were important instruments with which to tell the time and to navigate. They needed to be robust and shock-resistant, while being easy to use and read for the pilot at the same time. The watch faces are traditionally high-contrast, the crowns large. This meant that the watches could also be used while wearing gloves. The traditional triangle at the 12 was also easy to decipher at night. Our series COCKPIT follows the long tradition of these watches with a modern interpretation. Distinctive and unmistakable.

KERAMIKUHREN

Unter dem Begriff Keramik versteht man Stoffe, die durch einen Brennprozess oberhalb 900 °C zu festen Produkten verbunden werden. Schon im Altertum spielten Ton und Porzellan eine wichtige Rolle.

In den 80er Jahren entdeckte man Keramik als alternativen Werkstoff für Uhren.

Durch die angenehme Haptik des Materials, seine hohe Kratzresistenz und dem wunderschönen, einzigartigen Glanz erfreuen sich diese Uhren einer konstanten Beliebtheit.

TITANIUM WATCHES

Titanium - a very special element, named after the oldest gods of Greek mythology, is widely used as an oxide compound. It is much less common as pure metal, so it must be obtained using complex production processes.

Since the early 80s, titanium has been used as a material for watches. The lightness of the material, its high resilience and its skin-friendly properties make titanium an ideal material for high-quality and durable watches.

TITANIUM WATCHES | Series GENT FUNK and GENT SOLAR

Although batteries are more durable today, they need to be changed at regular intervals. An alternative to the battery are solar based watches. The sunlight ensures that the watch always works perfectly. The light is converted by photosensitive solar cells into energy and passed on to the quartz movement. Therefore, solar watches are environmentally friendly and economical.

A luxury radio-controlled watch with a black dial and leather strap is the central focus. The watch is positioned diagonally across the frame, resting on a set of architectural blueprints. The blueprints feature technical drawings of a building, with the text 'ZLIN 526 AFS' visible. In the background, a black pen holder contains several pens and pencils, and a roll of white tape is partially visible. The overall scene is set on a desk, suggesting a professional or creative environment.

RADIO CONTROLLED WATCHES

For lovers of absolute precision:

Watches which are absolutely exact in time because they receive the long-wave time signal of the transmitter DCF77 in Mainflingen/Germany. Its range is up to 1,500 km and, under ideal reception conditions, even up to 2,000 km.

This is connected to the atomic clock of the Physikalisch-Technische Bundesanstalt, which displays the time with an accuracy of only 1 second deviation in 30,000 years.

New in the DUGENA collection: children's watches. Model Yumi skillfully relies on existing trend colors which are up to date this year. True to the motto „less is more“, the girls' watch presents itself deliberately reduced with a clear design. The soft silicone strap gives a pleasant feeling.

THE HISTORY OF THE WATCH

Milestones ...

The first, relatively simple chronometers were water clocks, sun dials and hourglasses. By the year 1000, Pope Sylvester I is said to have built the first gear train clock. In historiography, these watches were first mentioned by poets and philosophers by 1300 A.D.

- 1336 in Milan the first church clock stroke
- 1511 in Nuremberg Peter Henlein manufactured the first wearable watch
- 1640 the first Black Forest clocks became known
- 1656 the pendulum clock was invented
- 1680 the first minute hand moved
- 1770 first clock with automatic winding-up
- 1800 the first second hand moved
- 1860 in the course of increasing industrialization, the series production of German watches started
- 1912 the first wrist watches hit the market
- 1923 the first automatic wristwatch was built in England
- 1934 German physicists presented the first quartz watch
- 1952 the first electronic wristwatch was developed by the German Chronometry Society
- 1970 Start of the mass production of quartz wristwatches

POCKET WATCHES

With the invention of the spring drive in the 15th century, the development of pocket watches was made possible in the first place. Peter Henlein from Nuremberg was one of the first who installed a spring drive into a portable watch. His pocket watches are among the oldest preserved specimens.

Sometimes these watches were artfully crafted as a status symbol of wealth and prosperity. At the beginning of the 20th century, the pocket watch was replaced by the wristwatch. Nevertheless, the pocket watch has retained its niche and is still a favorite.
