

NEX TIME

Lights up your life

Dear NeXtime friends

It is time for something new, something that lights up our lives. For many years we have the desire to make lighting products because it is just like clocks being an important part of our daily life and a product group in which we are confident to apply our spirit and creativity.

Also, the buyers in retail chain stores are often the same for clocks and lighting products. Time and Light products are for us a natural combination and something we want to extend for the future.

We hope you like our ideas and we look forward to hearing your feedback.
